Teaching Literature
Elaine Showalter

DESCRIPTION

Teaching Literature is an inspirational guidebook for all teachers of English and American literature in higher education.

• Written by leading academic, prolific author and cultural journalist, Elaine Showalter

• Original and provocative reflections on teaching literature in higher education

• Encourages teachers to make their classroom practice intellectually exciting

• Wide-ranging - covers the practical, theoretical, and methodological aspects of teaching literature

• Highly practical - employs real examples from real classes and careers throughout

• Draws on 40 years of international teaching experience

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Elaine Showalter is Professor of English at Princeton University. She has been a teacher of English and American Literature for 40 years and has taught high school students, undergraduates, graduate students, faculty and other adults in the United States, Canada, Britain and Europe. She has also directed a teaching seminar for graduate students. During 1998 she was President of the Modern Language Association of America.

FEATURES

- Written by leading academic, prolific author and cultural journalist, Elaine Showalter
- Original and provocative reflections on teaching literature in higher education
- Encourages teachers to make their classroom practice intellectually exciting
- Wide-ranging - covers the practical, theoretical, and methodological aspects of teaching literature
- Highly practical - employs real examples from real classes and careers throughout
- Draws on 40 years of international teaching experience

For additional product details, please visit https://www.wiley.com/en-sg