DESCRIPTION

Written by an international team of experts, this comprehensive volume investigates modern-day family relationships, partnering, and parenting set against a backdrop of rapid social, economic, cultural, and technological change.

• Covers a broad range of topics, including social inequality, parenting practices, children’s work, changing patterns of citizenship, multi-cultural families, and changes in welfare state protection for families

• Includes many European, North American and Asian examples written by a team of experts from across five continents

• Features coverage of previously neglected groups, including immigrant and transnational families as well as families of gays and lesbians

• Demonstrates how studying social change in families is fundamental for understanding the transformations in individual and social life across the globe

• Extensively reworked from the original Companion published over a decade ago: three-quarters of the material is completely new, and the remainder has been comprehensively updated
ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Judith Treas is Professor of Sociology and Director of the Center for Demographic and Social Analysis at the University of California, Irvine. Her latest book, edited with Sonja Drobnìè, is Dividing the Domestic: Women, Men and Household Work in Cross-National Perspective (2010).

Jacqueline Scott is Professor of Empirical Sociology in the Faculty of Politics, Psychology, Sociology and International Studies, and a Fellow of Queens’ College, University of Cambridge. Dr Scott is the editor of Gender Inequalities in the 21st Century: New Barriers and Continuing Constraints (with Rosemary Crompton and Clare Lyonette, 2010) and Women and Employment: Changing Lives and New Challenges (with Shirley Dex and Heather Joshi, 2009).

Martin Richards is Emeritus Professor of Family Research, Centre for Family Research, University of Cambridge. His recent books include Reproductive Donation: Practice, Policy and Bioethics (edited with Guido Pennings and John B. Appleby, 2012) and We are Family?Relatedness in Assisted Reproduction: Families, Origins and Identity (edited with Tabitha Freeman, Fatemeh Ebtehaj, and Susanna Graham, 2014).

SERIES

Wiley Blackwell Companions to Sociology

For additional product details, please visit https://www.wiley.com/en-us