Leadership Lessons from West Point
Major Doug Crandall (Editor), Jim Collins (Foreword by)

Paperback             ISBN: 978-1-118-00912-3                November 2006                $29.95

DESCRIPTION

With Leadership Lessons from West Point as a guide, leaders in the business, nonprofit, and government sectors can learn leadership techniques and practices from contributors who are teaching or have taught at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point and have served in positions of leadership that span the globe. These military experts cover a broad range of topics that are relevant to any leadership development program in any sector. The articles in this important resource offer insight into what leadership means to these experts—in both war and peacetime—and describe their views on quiet leadership, mission, values, taking care of people, organizational learning, and leading change.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Major Doug Crandall is the executive officer to the Dean of the Academic Board at the United States Military Academy (U.S.M.A.) West Point. He was previously an assistant professor in the Department of Behavioral Sciences and Leadership, where he served as course director for Leading Organizations Through Change and Advanced Military Leadership and received the Excellence in Teaching Award. Crandall has a B.S. from the U.S.M.A. and an M.B.A. from the Stanford Graduate School of Business.

The Leader to Leader Institute's mission is to strengthen leadership in the social sector. Established in 1990 as the Peter F. Drucker Foundation for Nonprofit Management, the Institute furthers its mission by providing social sector leaders with the essential leadership wisdom, inspiration, and resources needed to lead for innovation and to build vibrant social sector organizations.

NEW TO EDITION

- Topics include: what leaders can learn from their failures; how to get mavericks to work together as an effective team; how to manage expectations when leading change; how to gain the trust of your staff; and more.

- Addresses effective and successful leadership, which is critical in any organization—including the military, corporate America, small businesses, and nonprofit organizations.

- Stellar author platforms and outreach: Authored by 19 U.S. Army leadership experts who have led successfully in the field and in combat—and who now teach or have taught leadership to the cadets at West Point and train the Army’s future successful leaders.

- Foreword by author Jim Collins

SERIES

J-B Leader to Leader Institute/PF Drucker Foundation

For additional product details, please visit https://www.wiley.com/en-us