The New Age Movement: Religion, Culture and Society in the Age of Postmodernity
Paul Heelas

DESCRIPTION
This is the first wide-ranging and accessible introduction to the fascinating subject of the New Age movement.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR
Paul Heelas is Director of the Centre for Study of Cultural Values and Reader in Religion and Modernity in the Department of Religious Studies at Lancaster University.

FEATURES
* The first wide-ranging and accessible introduction to this topic.
* Draws on a wide range of examples (European and American).
* One of the first books to take account of the considerable body of literature (in social theory and cultural studies) which has been developed in connection with modernity and postmodernity.
For additional product details, please visit https://www.wiley.com/en-us