DESCRIPTION

This volume demonstrates a fresh approach to urban studies as well as a new way of looking at contemporary Japan which links economy and society in an innovative way.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

John Clammer is Professor of Comparative Sociology and Asian Studies at Sophia University, Tokyo.

FEATURES

- The first systematic sociological study of urban Japan by a western scholar.
• Breaks methodological and conceptual ground by exploring contemporary Japanese urban lifestyles through an analysis of consumption behaviour.

SERIES

Studies in Urban and Social Change

For additional product details, please visit https://www.wiley.com/en-us