DESCRIPTION

This collection of essays was presented to David Wiggins to mark his 60th birthday and his accession to the Wykeham Chair of Logic at Oxford. The contributors, who include both long-established and younger writers, take up some of the many important philosophical debates on which Wiggins has made an impact. Their chosen topics range from ancient philosophy to contemporary questions in ethics, metaphysics and the theory of meaning. An attractive feature of the volume is that it contains Wiggins's comments on each of the papers, and so offers an accessible guide to his present thinking.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Sabina Lovibond is Fellow and Tutor in Philosophy at Worcester College, Oxford. She is author of Realism and Imagination in Ethics (Blackwell, 1983) and co-editor of Ethics: A Feminist Reader (Blackwell, 1992).

S. G. Williams is also Fellow and Tutor in Philosophy at Worcester College, Oxford and has written on philosophical logic and metaphysics.
FEATURES

• Outstanding contributors including both long-established and younger writers

• Specially-commissioned essays

• Wide ranging discussions stemming from the work of David Wiggins and his contribution to philosophy

• Contains Wiggins' replies to each of the papers thus offering a guide to his present thinking.

SERIES

Aristotelian Society Monographs

To purchase this product, please visit https://www.wiley.com/en-us/9780631220688