DESCRIPTION

This accessible and timely book uses a Christian perspective to explore ethical debates about nature.

• A detailed exploration of humanity’s treatment of the natural world from a Christian perspective.

• Covers a range of ethical debates, including current controversies about the environment, animal rights, biotechnology, consciousness, and cloning.

• Sets the immediate issues in the context of underlying theological and philosophical assumptions.

• Complex scientific issues are explained in clear student-friendly language.

• The author develops her own distinctive ethical approach centred on the practice of wisdom.

• Discusses key figures in the field, including Peter Singer, Aldo Leopold, Tom Regan, Andrew Linzey, James Lovelock, Anne Primavesi, Rosemary Radford Ruether, and Michael Northcott.
• The author has held academic posts in both theology and plant science.
