DESCRIPTION

This is one of the first systematic discussions of the nature of trust as a means of social cohesion, discussing the works of leading social theorists on the issue of social solidarity.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Barbara A. Misztal is Professor of Sociology at Leicester University, UK. She is the author of multiple books.

FEATURES

- The book deals with one of the most important current issues: the issue of how societies hold together in the face of social fragmentation
- One of the first systematic discussions of the nature of trust as a means of social cohesion
- Contains important critical discussions of works by leading social theorists on the issue of social solidarity.
To purchase this product, please visit https://www.wiley.com/en-us/9780745616346