

Mixed Methods in Social Inquiry

Jennifer C. Greene

Paperback

ISBN: 978-0-787-98382-6

October 2007

$62.50

DESCRIPTION

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Jennifer C. Greene is professor in quantitative and evaluative research methodologies, Department of Educational Psychology, College of Education, at the University of Illinois, Champaign.

FEATURES

- * This book is ideal for students in education, sociology, social psychology, and nonprofit who want to expand their ability to mix qualitative and quantitative research methods.
- * This is the newest, freshest take on this increasingly important topic in evaluation and research.
- * It provides a unique question-driven framework for mixing methods and includes chapters on research design, quality criteria, data analysis, and writing up research.

* The author is one of the foremost practitioners of mixed methods of research.

 SERIES

Research Methods for the Social Sciences

For additional product details, please visit <https://www.wiley.com/en-us>