The Handbook of Global Online Journalism
Eugenia Siapera (Editor), Andreas Veglis (Editor)

Available on Wiley Online Library

DESCRIPTION

The Handbook to Global Online Journalism features a collection of readings from international practitioners and scholars that represent a comprehensive and state-of-the-art overview of the relationship between the internet and journalism around the world.

• Provides a state-of-the-art overview of current research and future directions of online journalism

• Traces the evolution of journalistic practices, business models, and shifting patterns of journalistic cultures that have emerged around the world with the migration of news online

• Written and edited by top international researchers and practitioners in the area of online journalism

• Features an extensive breadth of coverage, including economics, organizational practices, contents and experiences

• Discusses developments in online news in a wide range of countries, from the USA to Brazil, and from Germany to China

• Contains original theory, new research data, and reviews of existing studies in the field

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Eugenia Siapera is Lecturer in New Media and Journalism at the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. She is the author of Cultural Diversity and Global Media (Wiley-Blackwell, 2010) and Understanding New Media (2012), and editor of Radical Democracy and the Media (with L. Dahlberg, 2007) and At the Interface (with J. Hands, 2004).
Andreas Veglis is Associate Professor and Head of the Media Informatics Lab in the Department of Journalism & Mass Communication at the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. He is the author or co-author of ten books, has published dozens of papers in peer-reviewed journals, and has presented over fifty papers in international and national conferences on various media-related topics.

SERIES
Handbooks in Communication and Media

For additional product details, please visit https://www.wiley.com/en-us