Taking a global and interdisciplinary approach, Children and Media explores the role of modern media, including the internet, television, mobile media and video games, in the development of children, adolescents, and childhood.

- Primer to global issues and core research into children and the media integrating work from around the world
- Comprehensive integration of work that bridges disciplines, theoretical and research traditions and methods
- Covers both critical/qualitative and quantitative approaches to the topic

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Dafna Lemish is Professor of Communication and Dean at Southern University of Illinois, Carbondale, and founding editor of the Journal of Children and Media. An ICA fellow, she is author and editor of numerous books and articles on children, media and gender representations including most recently: The Routledge International Handbook on Children, Adolescents and Media (2013), Screening Gender on Children’s Television: The Views of Producers around the World (2010), and Children and Television: Global Perspectives (Wiley-Blackwell 2007).
RELATED RESOURCES

Student
View Student Companion Site

Instructor
View Instructor Companion Site

For additional product details, please visit https://www.wiley.com/en-us