The Literary Theory Toolkit: A Compendium of Concepts and Methods
Herman Rapaport

DESCRIPTION

The Literary Theory Toolkit offers readers a rich compendium of key terms, concepts, and arguments necessary for the study of literature in a critical-theoretical context.

• Includes varied examples drawn from readily available literary texts spanning all periods and genres

• Features a chapter on performance, something not usually covered in similar texts

• Covers differing theories of the public sphere, ideology, power, and the social relations necessary for the understanding of approaches to literature

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Herman Rapaport is Reynolds Professor of English, Wake Forest University, North Carolina, USA. He has published several books on aspects of Jacques Derrida's work and is currently doing research in the Derrida archives for a forthcoming project Archival Derrida.
FEATURES

• A student-friendly compendium of key terms, concepts, and arguments necessary for the study of literary theory

• Includes varied examples drawn from readily available literary texts spanning all periods and genres

• Features a chapter on performance, something not usually covered in similar texts

• Covers differing theories of the public sphere, ideology, power, and the social relations necessary for the understanding of approaches to literature in the context of cultural studies

For additional product details, please visit https://www.wiley.com/en-us