DESCRIPTION

This collection includes papers that show some of the bearing of indisciplinary work on central questions of philosophy. Three main core subdisciplines are included, and the book is divided into corresponding sections: epistemology, ethics, and metaphysics.

• Focuses on the core areas of Philosophy: epistemology, ethics, and metaphysics.

• Shows how interdisciplinary work can have important bearing even here.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Ernest Sosa is Board of Governors Professor of Philosophy at Rutgers, and has published extensively in epistemology, metaphysics, and other areas. Enrique Villanueva is a member of the Instituto de Investigaciones Jurídicas at UNAM, and has published in the philosophy of mind.

FEATURES
Focuses on the core areas of Philosophy: epistemology, ethics, and metaphysics.

Shows how interdisciplinary work can have important bearing even here.